ASSOCIATION:

Or, Plan for a Re-organization of Society. The Editorship of this column is distinct from that of The Tribune. Letters on the subject are to be addressed, post-paid, to A. BRISBANE, 76 Leonard-etreet, New-York.

Lecture.-This Evening, at 7} o'clock, a Lecture will be delivered at the Fourier Hall, 411 Broadway. The subject will be the superior advantages of Association over the present system of Society, and the causes of the poverty of the mass.

Christianity and Association.

[God has given the human race Reason, or Intelligence. to discover the positive sciences-among which is the sci. tion. God could not reveal to us through the Prophets, or through Christ, our Social Destiny, without nullifying the function of Reason and rendering it a useless power or agent. Social Science, or the theory of the laws upon which Human Societies are based, belongs to the domain of the positive sciences-such as Mathematics, Astronomy, Chemistry, &c.; and man must discover it by study and investigation, as he has discovered those sciences.

We stated in our preceding article that Christ could not reveal to Man his Social Destiny, or explain to him the organization of a true Social Order. We will now continue the subject from Fourier. ] Charged by his Father with the Religious Revelation. Christ was not charged with the Social Revelation, which, on the contrary, was formally excluded from his attributes, as he declares himself, in these words :- "Render unto Cresar the things which are Casar's, and unto God the things that are God's." He isolates himself, in making this declaration, from those functions which devolve upon public authority or upon Political Sciences. The one tells us that "Crime and Misery are the necessary results of Civilization, and that we must submit to them patiently without hoping to avoid them;" the other tells us "that we must resign ourselves to suffering in this world, in order to attain our reward in the next:" but those who preach these doctrines, take very good care not to follow them themselves. They invariably secure for themselves as much as they can of the comforts of life, and then deliberately tell their starving brethren to suffer patiently the wrongs which they endure.

It is, no doubt, proper to resign ourselves with patience and forbearance, as long as Society remains in ignorance and poverty; but Christ himself has reld as the star of the social as the star of the star of the social as the star of the social as the star of the social as the star of the Self-preservation is an inherent principle firmly seated in the heart of man. He alights upon the shores of Time the most helpfess of all God's creatures, but as soon as Reason rears her standard, he sees, and thinks, and encircles himself with objects of protection; being endowed with that most noble intellect which distinguishes him as the head of all. By his power mountains are leveled, rivers are turned from their course, the land is girt with iron-bound tracks, enabling him to fly, as it were, with the wings of the wind; the ocean sparkles beneath his feet as the gallant ship speeds on to some distant shore. But with all this delegated wisdom, man is helpless still; as the green foliage of nature is destreyed by the autumnal frosts, so are men cut down by ence of Society, or the principles of a true Social Organiza. the hand of disease. It walks abroad and we cannot stay its progress; men fall by the wayside, and others mourn their loss. But as the history of mankind evinces a gradual improvement, who will say that suffering and pain is to accompany us in all our walks of life. Among the many and important discoveries of this generation is one recently announced to the public, whose fame will be written as with a sunbeam in the history of the past. SANDS'S SARSAPA-RILLA stands forth alone, and by its own works proclaims its power-that mute eloquence, so irresistibly affecting in the appeals of the suffering for relief, has been answered .-Diseases have been cured by this invaluable medicine, such as not furnished in the records of time. These things are not done in secret places or some ukknown town, but are done in our public places and the bighways. They are brought before the world to substantiate beyond doubt the healing virtues of this new preparation, and the facts unfolded, although gigantic, are as plain as the light of day; and where is that High Priest of Envy that can gainsay Truth.

The following cure of an inveterate case of Scrofula is submitted to the careful consideration of a discerning pub-lic, and its truth vouched for from such a source as cannot be called in question. It may well be said, " Truth is

What are the two opponents that Association, of Self-Righteousness which is not less intolerant.

NEW.YORK, August 23, 1842.

Gentlemen,—A tale of misery and woe is mine to tell, and as memory ever constant in the task brings back scenes that have past, I shudder at the picture and almost wonder if it is so. For months stretched upon a bed of suffering and distress, racked by the most excruciating pain, dum with a converted to the poly voice that came from my lips the voice of

What can be the cause of this passive and inert the science of Social Harmony, and its principles of truth and practical equity? But, supposing their efforts to have been constant though inadequate, is it not, at least, their duty to protect the Man who has devoted thirty-eight years of a laborious life to the seeking and discovering of the principles of Justice and Social Regeneration?

Men who lay claim to piety, but who do not believe in the universality of Providence,—in the existence of a Divine Social Code! you are in error; will you persevere in it?

For the love of the neighbor, you should have made an active search for the Social Laws of God—for a true System of Society: you have neglected the task, and left the World to be governed by Politicians and Philosophers according to their false and arbitrary Laws and Institutions.

The scale in some respects resembled my own, and I found that lingering loope still clung to life. It seemed like a whisper from heaven. The second day after I commenced taking it I felt the pain much easier and went to sleep. I had not slept like this before for months. By the time I had used one bottle, the pain had nearly left, the eruption was also much better. I now felt a strange hope gathering in my breast that I should live! perhaps be cured. No; this could not be. I dared not believe it. I seat and got another bottle, continuing to improve rapidly, and still another, and I—I a few days since a miserable, suffering, dying man, was almost well. Two weeks from the day I took the first dose I was out, and walked nearly three miles without even the assistance of a cane. And now, gentlemen—yes, now, I am well! and have testified before my God upon His sacred Word, that all might believe this statement for it is true, true. Oh how land and lingering hough a social days of safering. True! Yes, gentlemen, I herald it to the world that all may know what your preparation of Saraparilla has done for me. MUTUAL INSURANCE.—On Dwelling Houses and Furniture only, profits returned to the Assured. THE HOUSEHOLDERS' MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY, Office 46 Wall st., for separating the insurance of Dwelling Houses and Furniture from that of Stores and Merchandise.

It is well known that almost all the losses incurred in the business of insurance, are the result of the burning of valuabusiness of insurance, are the result of the burning of valuabusiness of insurance, are the tested of the bousehold-ble stores and costly goods.

This increases the expense of insurance to the bousehold-er, and may possibly deprive him of the very security for which he pays his premium.

The cash payments or premiums form a fund, which, af-ter paying expenses and losses, is represented by scrip, and is issued to the assured in proportion to the amount of their insurance.

This Company is prepared to insure against loss or damage by fire, Dwelling Houses, occupied in whole or in part as such, Household Furniture and all Heusehold Property ordinarily kept in dwelling houses. IRE PROOF IRON SAFES.—There can be no greater evidence of the high estimation by the public of Wilder's Patent Salamander Safe than the fact, that since the invention of these Safes and their subsequent trials and tests, almost every thing made for the purpose of holding books and papers are called by the makers and venders by the name of Salamander Sales.

The following gentlemen composed a Committee of Merchants at the trial of sales in a blast furnace near the foot of Wall-street, and decided in favor of Wilder's Patent Safe, which was the only one that stood the test, viz:

LEW AIR-TIGHT STOVE, called

BOSWORTH'S PATENT HEAT RITAINER.—

This newly invented Stove is upon the Air-Tight Principle and stands unrivalled for its beauty, safety and temperature of heat produced. It is simple in construction, and may be used with or without an oven, which is admirably adapted to allithe purposes of baking. For the sick room this stove is superior to all other wood stoves, and is recommended to the public with great confidence by the proprietor in this City. A few testinoniais are given below by those who have used then during the last winter. The public are invited to call and examine this stove at my store, where they are manufactured and for sale.

RECOMENDATIONS.

From J. H. Linsley, DD. President Marietta College, Ghidd

MARIETTA COLLEGE, Ohio, January 27, 1842.

Mr. Zepheniah Bosworth—Sir—I have in use one of your improved air-tight Stoves. There are, I believe, several varieties of this kind of stove in use in the country. It is not necessary that I should compare yours with others. I will only say that I prefer yours to any other which I have seen in operation, and indeed to any close stove which I have ever seen. The following are among its excellencies:

1. It throws out a great amount of heat. 2. It consumes a very small quantity of fuel in proportion to the space warmed. 3. The control of the door and the damper over the draught is so entire that you may graduate the temperature of the room, as you please. If the stove be properly managed, the air is never scorched, and no water is required to the stove. 4. It is admirably adapted to the sick room. where a steady fire and even temperature is required. 5.

The process of consuming the fuel used, is so slow that your The process of consuming the use used, a so show hat your room is kept moderately warm by a good sizel-stick of solid dry wood, from 2 to 10 hours. Hence its superio ity as a sick room stove, or for offices where you have frequent occasion to leave your fire unrenewed, for a considerable time. 6. The safety of the stove is perfect. I ought, perhaps to add, that the large sizes, though more tostly at first, are the most genomical, and exhibit the peculiar excellenhaps to add, that the large sizes, through those excellen-are the most economical, and exhibit the peculiar excellen-lencies of the stove to the best advantage, because with them lencies of the stove to the best advantage.
